

Business Insights Based on Data Analysis

1. Market Performance & Revenue Dominance

- Insight: The APAC (Asia Pacific) market generates the highest total revenue, closely followed by the EU market.
- Recommendation: Since APAC is our strongest market, we should allocate more marketing budget to this region to capitalize on existing momentum. Conversely, further investigation is needed into lower-performing markets (like LATAM or Africa) to determine if we need to adjust our pricing strategy or exit those regions entirely.

2. Profitability Concerns in Sub-Categories

- Insight: While the Furniture category overall is underperforming, a detailed analysis shows that the "Tables" sub-category is the primary issue, consistently generating negative profit (operating at a financial loss).
- Recommendation: A full audit of the Tables sub-category is required immediately. We must investigate whether shipping costs for these heavy items are destroying our margins, or if our supplier costs are too high. Consider raising prices, negotiating better shipping rates, or discontinuing certain table models.

3. Shipping Mode Efficiency

- Insight: "Standard Class" is the overwhelmingly dominant shipping method chosen by our customers.
- Recommendation: Because the vast majority of our volume goes through Standard Class, we have leverage to negotiate bulk discounts with our primary shipping carriers. Additionally, since fewer customers use premium options (First Class/Same Day), we should review if offering those expensive options is actually cost-effective for our warehouse operations.
